"I think the Presbyterian form of church government is the most democratic. I may take up the ministry here. I am in some doubt. At present I am not affiliated with any church."

Mr. Biddle first met Miss Gaines one year ago in the Jefferson Hotel, Richmond, Va. She was at the hotel with her invalid brother, C. Fairfax Gaines. The former monk fell swiftly in lowe with the cultivated Virginia woman.

Mr. Gaines and his sister left Richmond soon after this meeting and went to Atlantic City, where it was hoped the invigorating air would aid the invalid. Woman's Will Recalls Romance of Civil War

SALEM, Mass., Dec. 16. - A SALEM, Mass., Dec. 16.—A romance of the civil war was recalled by two bequests of $500 each to Clark How Edwards, St. Paul, and Jackson How, San Francisco, contained in the will of Miss Sarah M. Kelly of Haverhill, filed to-day. Both beneficiaries are relatives of Miss Kelly's girlhood sweetheart, Major Henry Jackson How, who was killed in battle at Glendale, Va., June 30, 1862.

Miss Kelly and Major How, for whom the local G. A. R. Post is named, were to have been married upon his return from war. Upon learning of his death she announced that she would
